

Family Literacy Center

We are always getting new books. Here are some favorites:

Little Bunny Foo Foo, by Paul Brett Johnson

The Odd Egg, by Emily Gravett

We encourage you to visit our online catalog. If you email us the books you want, we'll send them home with your children.

At the library

We have enjoyed getting to know your children as they come to the library. It is so exciting to watch them choose their own books.

We spent most of September teaching book care skills:

Don't eat or drink with your book.

Keep books safe from animals, babies and weather!

Turn the pages using pincher fingers, at the corners of the pages.

In October we have been reading some scary books, and the children are learning how to describe the way books make them feel.

We are reading books like:

There's a Nightmare in My Closet

Go Away, Big Green Monster

Abiyoyo

We are watching Frank Was a Monster Who Wanted to Dance on Tumblebooks.com

Looking Ahead

In November, we will have our Usborne book fair. Usborne provides a wonderful selection of high-quality literature for preschoolers. Make sure you come by and take a look at what they have to offer. The book fair will be held November 16-24, and will be open during the Family Night, as well as the Thanksgiving Luncheon.

November 17th is the date of our third Family Fun Night, celebrating the books of Mo Willems. Mo Willems is the author of such books as Don't Let the Pigeon Drive the Bus, Knuffle Bunny, and the Gerald and Piggie books. To celebrate his books, we will read them, do activities, and even have a hot dog party! We hope to see you there, 5:30-7:00.

In February our Multicultural Goal Team will be hosting a series of activities related to the various cultures of our staff and students. We would love to order at least one book that represents each culture of our school. If you have a suggestion for a title, or can tell us your family's cultural background, we will try to find a good book to add to our library. We will order the books in late December.
